

BUCKINGHAM PALACE OPENS FOR THE SUMMER

ENCORE TICKETS HAS GOT THE STATE ROOMS DOWN TO A TEA COMBINE THE HOUSEHOLD CAVALRY MUSEUM WITH WARHORSE

Encore Tickets' Richard Woolliss is on parade outside the Household Cavalry Museum; a new groups package which can be twinned a variety of options including the production of Warhorse.

The State Rooms at Buckingham Palace will be open to public again this Summer and Encore Tickets has put together the ideal combination for coach tour operators: a Palace tour and cream tea from just £29.

Also new from Encore are groups packages for the Household Cavalry Museum on Horse Guards Parade which can also be combined with a cream team for £18.50

Buckingham Palace tours will be boosted this year with the opening of 'The Queen's Year', an exhibition of robes, gifts, landmark events for The Queen during the year, plus an archive of photography and film. Encore offers combinations of a Place tour plus fish and chip lunch from £26 or a carvery lunch from £27.50.

At the historic Household Cavalry Museum Encore also has combinations of entry tickets plus Buckingham Place tour of £20.50, the Queen's Gallery for £13.50, or for a real day and night of nostalgia, with tickets to the award winning production of Warhorse for £40.

To book all these new Summer packages call the Encore Tickets groups team on 0207 492 1525.
